Student working groups

The AK Divers is a small group of students from the University of Regensburg and the OTH Regensburg who would like to work together on the topic of "diversity" on campus, but also beyond it, in order to

- provide space for students whose perspectives, experiences and needs remain invisible, negated and unconsidered in the university context.
- create an opportunity for exchange, networking and support among each other.
- name and change discriminatory structures on campus.
- organize political actions, workshops, creative projects and much more.
- develop ourselves, to learn from and with each other and to reflect on our own behavior.
