Application for posting

Application for issuing a certificate concerning the applicable legal regulations Form as PDF.
Please send one form for each application for posting by email to entsendungen@ur.de

Why do I even need a dispatch certificate when I am abroad?

With it, you can prove that you are insured for social security purposes in Germany when you are abroad.

Do I need to apply for a business trip?

Yes, you always need to fill in an application for a business trip. It does not matter whether you are staying in Germany or traveling abroad.

What types of dispatch certificate are there?

A1 certificate (EU member states, the eurozone, Switzerland);
Dispatch certificate (including countries that have a social insurance agreement with Germany, and third countries where no agreement is in place)

What is an A1 certificate?

The A1 certificate is valid for foreign countries in Europe. The certificate is your documentation to show foreign authorities that you are allowed to carry out your work for Universität Regensburg in another European country.

When do I need to apply for the dispatch certificate?

You must make an application before every trip you make abroad.

Who needs to make an application for posting certificate?
